

OAKS GIVEN
RIGHT TO BID
FOR HADNOT

OCT 18 1962

The Oakland Oaks today were given rights by the American Basketball League to bid for the services of Jim Hadnot, the 6-foot-10 former Providence College star released yesterday by the Boston Celtics.

The Oaks will try to contact the former McClymonds High School star at his Providence, R.I. home, according to pro-tem general manager Joe Anzivino.

The Celtics cut Hadnot just two days after they acquired center Clyde Lovelette from the St. Louis Hawks.
